

Ann Vivian, Architect, Burlington. Ms. Vivian has practiced architecture in Vermont and New England for more than 30 years designing a variety of project types; many have included rehabilitation and renovation of historic properties. She earned Architecture and Fine Arts degrees from Rhode Island School of Design, and a Theology and the Arts masters from Andover Newton Theological School. Ms. Vivian is a partner in GVV Architects in Burlington where a number of her projects have earned preservation awards. Ann is a past president of AIA/VT and Preservation Burlington, and former chair of Burlington's Design Review Board. She has recently discovered the reward and fun of set design for community-based Lyric Theatre and GNOP Productions.
