

David Skinas, Archaeologist, Northfield. Mr. Skinas has forty years of archaeological experience working on projects primarily in Vermont and the Northeast US, but also on digs in Georgia and Nevada. He worked as the Survey Archaeologist for the Vermont Division for Historic Preservation for eight years before joining the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NCRS) as the Archaeologist assigned to implement the Section 106 compliance program. Mr. Skinas retired from the NRCS after twenty years of service and now works part-time as a Technical Specialist for the Vermont Association of Conservation Districts. He received his B.A. in Anthropology from the University of New Hampshire, and M.S. in Quaternary Studies from the University of Maine at Orono.