Other ideas for the future of this or another TG?

continue with additional topics, back yard furnaces subsidy for McNeil and Rygate and more

I welcome expanding scope to include burning biomass for heat. Issues are mostly the same, except efficiency.

A real focus on a just transition (e.g., alternative product streams for residue woods that avoid combustion, and other such considerations)

I think we need to continue to address additional areas, back yard furnace regulations and monitoring, more about subsidized biomass centers. etc
