

Subcommittee terms and appointments will work as follows:

- Subcommittee members will serve three-year terms, starting in January 2024.
- Members who are not Councilors or their designees will be selected through a public nomination process overseen by the Steering Committee and informed by the Subcommittees, which may suggest candidates.
- At the end of their term, Subcommittee members who are not Councilors or designees will be asked to step down. If they so choose, they can reapply through the public nomination process.
- The Steering Committee will confirm Subcommittee membership and seek to achieve a balance of technical expertise and stakeholder interests.

Source: Climate Council Governance Document 9-8-23; p.7

Jan 5-12

Assess current subcommittee members'
intent to stay or leave

Jan 15-19

Define gaps in knowledge, experience, representation on subcommittees

Jan 22-Feb 2

Distribute nomination form; recruit new nominees

Feb 5-9

Decide on new subcommittee members;
alert nominees

Subcommittee membership should consider the following:

- Council members and some measure of balance across the three designations (House, Senate, Administration)
- Specific expertise necessary to conduct the work
- As needed, geographic balance
- As needed, sectoral balance
- Equity and representation of vulnerable populations