

Ashton and Brayden are two brothers who are hoping to be adopted together. They are looking for parents who can be caring, supportive people in their lives while allowing them to continue being brothers they have always been to one another. Their sibling bond is very important, and it is essential that they remain together.

They are hoping for a family who will welcome them both, love them equally, and provide a safe, supportive home where they can continue to grow and thrive. Ashton and Brayden are active boys who enjoy activities and benefit from encouragement and connection with the people around them

Below is some more information to help you get to know them better.

Name: Ashton Age: 13 yrs

My favorite things:

Wrestling is very important to me. It is something I enjoy and want to continue. I like to fish, ride my BMX bike, play some video games, and hang out with friends. Staying active and being able to spend time with people I care about is important to me.

Things I do not like:

I am not a fan of tomatoes. I don't like being accused of things I didn't do and I don't like being asked too many questions.

Favorite foods:

I like spicy foods and enjoy things like jerky, burgers, tacos, and nachos. I love eating fish, especially ones that I've caught myself-it makes it even better!

What I want in a family:

I want a family that supports me in my interests and treats me like a young adult. I'm not perfect, and I don't try to be. I hope for a family that will give me some freedom while still being there to guide and support me when I need it.

What I want families to know about me

I enjoy doing things outside, but I'm happy spending time inside too. I like watching sports on tv and listening to music, especially rap, but I enjoy other kinds of music as well. Wrestling is something I really love and it's very important to me.

My little brother means a lot to me. I love him very much, even though sometimes he can be difficult. Being a big brother is important to me. I'm a teenager, so there are times when I'll need my own space, but I also enjoy spending time with people around me.

What we want families to know about the youth:

Ashton has a good sense of humor and enjoys sharing laughs with people around him. It can take him some time to open up to others, as building trust is important to him. Once he feels comfortable and safe, Ashton can express his needs and communicate what he is feeling. He benefits from caregivers who are patient, attentive, and willing to give him the time and attention he deserves. Consistency is very important to Ashton, and it means a lot to him when adults in his life follow through on their promises.

Ashton cares deeply about his little brother and is very protective of him. While he takes pride in being a big brother, the responsibility can sometimes feel overwhelming. With supportive caregivers who understand this balance, Ashton can continue to grow in confidence while feeling secure in the relationship around him.

Name: Brayden Age: 6yrs

My favorite things:

I like to play games with people and spend time having fun together. I enjoy playing with Matchbox cars and trucks and building with LEGOs. I like all kinds of animals and enjoy learning about them. I also like barbie accessories and using them in my play. When the weather is nice, I like to play outside, I also enjoy relaxing by watching movies and TV shows.

Things I do not like:

I really don't like the dark, so I sleep better with a night light on in my room. I'm not a big fan of hot or spicy foods, and I don't really like pasta very much. I also don't like pepper on my food. Something that is important to me is being around people who make me safe. I don't like it when people drink alcohol around me.

Favorite foods:

My favorite ice cream is bubblegum ice cream. I also like eating venison and I'm a big fan of sweet onions. I enjoy trying different foods and finding different foods and finding new things that I really like.

What I want in a family:

I want a family that understands my needs and is patient with me. I would like a family who enjoy spending time together, playing with me, and encouraging me to do my best. It's important to me to have people who will help me when I need it and support me as I learn and grow. I want a family where I can feel safe, cared for, and a part of the family.

What I want families to know about me:

I enjoy playing with toys and spending time with others. I like learning about new things, and I ask a lot of questions because I am curious. I also like to relax by watching movies or TV shows.

What we want families to know about youth:

Brayden is an adorable young boy with a big personality. He can be a little mischievous at times, usually with the best intentions. Brayden has a lot of energy and feels things very deeply. Despite the challenges he has experienced in his life he has shown himself to be a very resilient child.

Brayden looks up to his big brother and enjoys being around him, even though, like many siblings, they sometimes get into arguments. Their relationship is important to him, and he values that connection.

Brayden has many strengths that will continue to shine in a supportive and nurturing family environment. He is a caring child who values relationships, especially with those he trusts and feels connected to. Brayden's energy, curiosity, and ability to bounce back from challenges speaks to his resilience and potential. With patient caregivers who can provide consistency, encouragement, and understanding, Brayden will have the opportunity to continue building confidence, developing his strengths, and growing into a happy and successful young person. A family who celebrates his efforts, provides guidance, and helps him feel safe and valued will help Brayden truly thrive.
