

1     APA RULE: MARRIAGE CEREMONY FOR INCARCERATED INDIVIDUALS

2
3     Purpose Statement

4
5     The Department of Corrections (DOC) recognizes the fundamental right of 6     incarcerated individuals to wed.

7
8     Application

9
10    An incarcerated individual who wishes to marry shall complete a request form
11    prescribed by the DOC for a marriage ceremony to be held in the correctional 12    facility.

13
14    DOC Review

15
16    For each completed marriage ceremony request form received, the DOC shall
17    determine whether the marriage ceremony would negatively affect a legitimate
18    penological interest, if approved.

- 19    1. In making such a determination DOC shall consider the following:
20       a. A risk to the safety and security of the correctional facility or public;
21       b. A risk to the incarcerated individual's rehabilitation; or 22       c. Any other legitimate penological interest.
23    2. The DOC shall not deny a request for a marriage ceremony based on the 24    incarceration status or a protected class of the parties.

25
26    Post Application Provision

- 27
28    1. Whenever a marriage ceremony request is approved, the DOC shall allow 29    incarcerated individuals requesting premarital counseling to meet with a
30    religious leader or other counselor in accordance with the policy on visitation.
31    2. An incarcerated individual or their intended spouse shall be responsible for 32    obtaining a marriage license and assuming all costs associated with the 33    marriage.
34    3. If proof of the marriage license is not provided before the marriage ceremony
35    is scheduled to occur, then the marriage ceremony shall not take place.
